Shadow Core

35 2 2

Chapter 1 by rusty pokemon

Andromeda Galaxy 7861 C.E. Quadrant 2, Sector 12. Shadow Core top secret space station worm hole research facility.

The base was in complete chaos. There were sirens blaring, alarms going at full blare. "The uranium core is under a full meltdown!" a voice cried out. "Get to the escape pods!" a scientist yelled. A couple minutes later all the escape pods are jettisoned. However there is someone still in the station. "What's going on?" slurred a half conscious young guard as he emerged from his room at the edge of the station. "Boom!" the reactor exploded and if space carried sound it would have been heard at the next star system. A black hole forms where the shattered remains are and sucks everything in and disappears just as quickly as it formed.

Chapter 2 by Noel

*This is a story about a guy who gets sucked into a wormhole and gets teleported to another dimension that has gone down the path of magic rather than science and the main characters will go dimension hopping for some time***

The guard wakes up, dreadingly at first. His first thought is "Shouldn't I be dead?" As he opens his eyes, he realizes that he is floating. Everything is blue and shapeless around him. He begins to panic as he realizes that he can't breathe. "What is this?" he doesn't need to. "What is this?" he thinks. "Is this that place I heard about? LET ME OUT OF HERE!" but no sound is coming from his mouth. He begins to drift into unconsciousness.

Chapter 3 by rusty pokemon

I'm just going to end this story because first off he is supposed to be instantly transported through the wormhole. Second it is sci fi so the character is atheist, not Christian. so i'm going to restart this story. but continue this one. I want to see how it turns out
